Letters from Germany state that Madame Jenuy Und Goldsmidt has once more professed her lates tion of retiring finally from singing is public. An American writer even goes so far as to say, (use better is dated from Vienna,) that she has the in-

From Vienna we learn that the German season ha commenced under most promising auspices; the sa donza, Madile. Tietjens, bas made a brilliant lebut in a version of Boildeu's pleasing opera, "La

The Gazette Musicale, under the head of Naples, explains of the severity of the censorship. Operas were out in other parts of Burope are, from various reasons, forbidden to be performed. "Attile" is prohibited from its toe great display of patriotism; "Macbeth" en account of regioide; "Ernant" by reason of conspiracy and humilitation of the King, "I Lombardi," from political emblems; "Lucretta Dargia," because of the poisoning of the ducal personages; "Buf-lio," because Protestants are introduced; the "Bat-aglio di Lugano," because it a hides to the defeat of the Italians by the Austrians;

Paritans," because a queen of Bogland appea s in it; "Robert le Diable," because of its name; "Le Prophete," from its religious tendency; "La Judin," be ause it introduces a Jewess on the Nespalitan stage. Amongst the other operas thus excommuni-cated are, from various causes, "Rigoletto," "Be-atrice di Tenda," "Giovanni d'Arco," "Marino Pallero," "Gabrielle di Vergi," and several others. The overtures of "Guillaume Tell" and "Massanblo," have alone been played for a considerable

From Italy, also, we select the following:-Milen, the Grand Theatre La Scala being closed, as customary at this period of the year, the only ses of any importance open were the Canoblis and the Theatre Ré; at the latter a Signora Lorini les met with great success, and been much ap-landed in "I Giuramento." At the Carcano a tenor named Daniel e, and a young artiste of French extraction, assuming the name of Marietta Almenti, the daughter of a former member of the Opera Comique at Paris, have just made their débuts, and are considered to possess more than ordinary talente. The latter came out in the part of Amina in "La ennambula," and achieved a complete triumph, in spite of the recollection of Pasta and Malibran in the same character. The tenor Daniele ranks about as high as Calzolari in talent, and will become useful."

THEATRICALS IN THE BLACK SEA .- On the 28th with Lord George Paulet, the commander of the Bel-lerephon, gave a theatrical representation on board the Dake of Cambridge. For him was reserved the seat of horor, an arm chair in the front row, which included all the great folks within hall of Varna-The ship was rigged into a theatre in the most ingerious way. The scenery was good and well ma-maged, the ladies' parts being taken by midshipmen and boys of the ship. Two of the plees were "The Lottery Ticket" and "Diamond cut Diamond," both performed. As interludes, there were Ethiopian serenoders, &..., and pieces performed by the splen-did band of the ship. The audiences, which con-sisted of some 200 officers, were of course greatly delighted with the entertainment, more particularly as it was concluded by a most excellent substantial supper, in the usual profuse style of hospitality for whi h the English army are so much his lordship's

The THE PUBLIC IN GENERAL.—THE DAY HAS AT I had come when all those who have that troublesome causes called dyspepsia, may look forward with hope to be speedily cured. This is no adis boast or humbug to be speedily cured. This is no adis boast or humbug to be speedily cured. This is no adis boast or humbug to be speedily cured. This is no adis boast or humbug to be shown that he was a sure, permanent and positive fact, as we can show by certificates from the most respectable people in New York and elsewhere, which had been tending for many years, and baffied all the skillful physicians, who could not reach the chease. This geat medicine has been in use for nowards of six years, comparatively privately, and has rever failed to cure the disease in its werst form, of which se have the most marity, bring it entirely before the public. The greatest miracle of this medicine is that one or two bottles, at two or three weeks will cure the disease, no matter how severe, if directions are followed. We chillenge all other medicines that have ever been used for dyspopsia, as they cure for a while, but not permanently; but the districtions the ciscase without any fear of return, as we can show to any person who may favor as with a call. The children is any row dollar per bottle, and we say again one or two bottles will cure positively.
